

Piano One follow a mode which is a Universal Sample Player (The engine, Neo Piano Plugin) plus sample set (piano1.ins). So the plugin appears on your list should always be “Neo Piano”

Quick and Basic Steps

1. Go to Plugin_Installer folder, run the installer to install Neo Piano Plugin first Windows installer has 2 msi installers. OSX has a pkg installer
2. Go to SampleSet folder, copy the ins and png files to default folder we list below or other locations you want to store the sample set data.
PC: /Public Documents/SoundMagic/Neo_Piano/Instruments
Mac: Users/Shared/SoundMagic/Neo_Piano/Instruments
Please note piano1.ins can not be put into the same folder as the plugin dll file under windows system.
3. Then it is recommend to restart your PC to let DAW detect the plugin
4. Piano One only has plugin version, you will need a DAW support VST/AU or Host to run the plugin
5. Open DAW or Host, then load Neo Piano plugin
6. Manually load piano1.ins and it should play. No keycode required.
